STUDENT LIFE

SPLASH

In the summer you can't wait for school to come around so that you can see all of your friends. Then, when you get back to school you can't wait for summer vacation. It is even difficult to wait until 3:03.

Student life is a time to have fun and not to get caught. Making a fool of yourself to show school spirit, looking forward to weekends, and being with friends define student life. Student life is worrying about the next test, getting wet during passing time, falling on the ice, running to get to class after lunch, and trying to find a parking space.

Student life has hardships like staying up until 3 a.m. to do a 10 page research paper. It is the fear of having to stay up late to do homework and wake up early to get ready for another long day of brown-nosing your teachers. But the life of a student is the greatest!

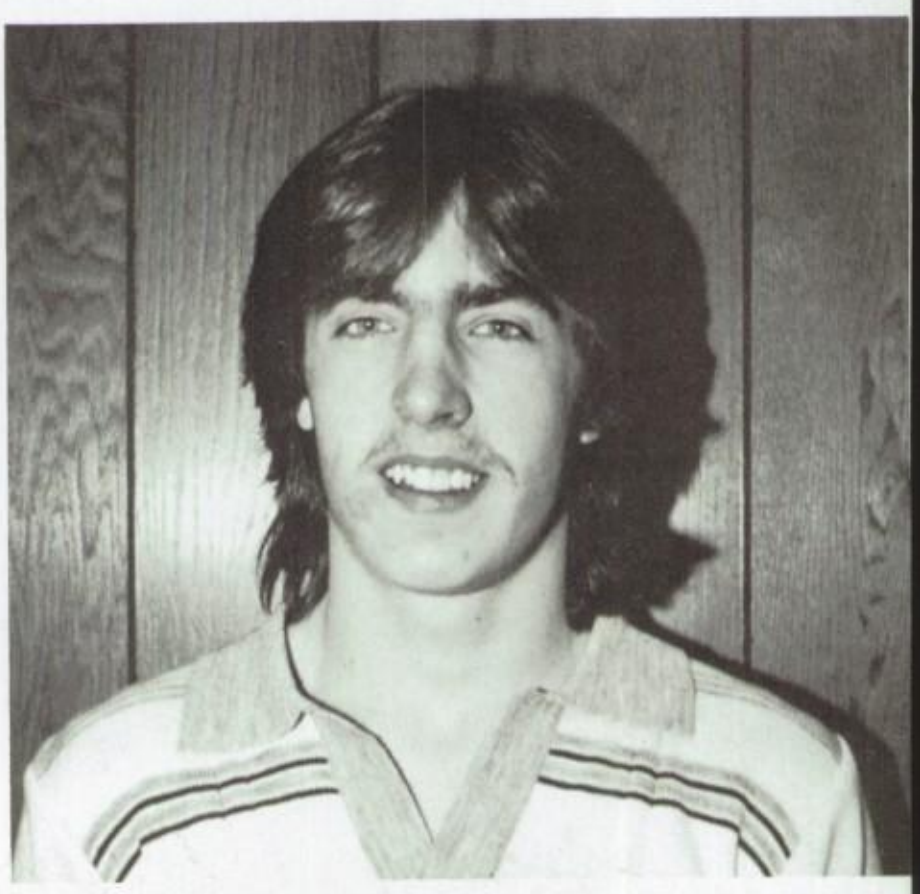
AH — HOMEWORK

Homework may not kill me but why take the chance.

Let's face it. We cannot really have all of the fun of school without some of the pain — classes and homework. After all, the taxpayers may object to supporting this institution if we do not at least pretend that we are learning something. So — off we go to class — day after day after day.

We do have to admit that at least our classes do offer some variety. In our labs we get to play at being mad scientists and in the shops we can begin building for the future — one that we might not have if the mad scientists have their way — the real ones not the ones at NHS.

Choir and band also give us a chance to let off steam and be at our best — making noise, that is. Of course, we have to make up for the crushing silence during all of the boring lectures.



Top: We are all making beautiful music, aren't we?
Left: Oh, come on now, that's not nice.
Center right: Now that's what I call being engrossed in a book.
Bottom: Just to prove that the Rocket aims to please, we were able to get senior Todd Allen's picture into the book with just two weeks to deadline.

WEEKEND MADNESS

He hath no leisure who useth it not.

What movie describes your weekends? Since at NHS we have a variety of students, there will obviously be a variety of answers: from Animal House and Pink Floyd the Wall at the midnight movie to Stand By Me and Top Gun on a quiet date.

Many of us spend our Friday nights getting hoarse yelling for Neenah Rocket teams. If the student does not lose his voice at the game, he can at the dance ofterwards.

Some have participated in the well known mud-bowls with the Park East side of town vs. the West Side. Others attend concerts such as The Call or the Monkees.

On the weekends in between there were always ski trips sponsored by the Ski Inn or tobagganing runs down snowy hills.

When the weather is bad, the shoppers hit the mall and, of course, the new Marshall Fields and TJ Maxx. Finally on Sundays we spend time thinking about the past two nights and maybe even doing some homework.

So have you figured out what movie fits your weekends? Animal House? Revenge of the Nerds? The Scandal Sheet? Hopefully, it is not Back to School.

Top: Movies continue to be a big draw with students on weekends.
Bottom left: Although most try to avoid it, work — especially the labor intensive kind — catches up with some students on weekends.
Bottom right: At slumber parties catchin 40 zz's is the same as any port in the storm.

DRESSED TO THE TEETH

The glass of fashion and the mould of form, The observ'd of all observers!

Despite the fact that our generation holds conservative views, many of the styles and fads which are popular represent a liberal lifestyle. Far from traditional, hairstyles are often a variety of colors, spiked every which way, or pulled back with an abundant supply of styling gel. Girls like long, wavy styles secured at the back of the head in a banana barrette.

Another hit is the line of clothing produced by the Coco Cola company. The product line includes everything from jeans, shirts and sweatshirts to book bags and bandanas.

Traditionally, there are the usual Tretorns, Reeboks, Mitresand Adidas, but older shoe styles have been revised to suit the fashions of today. Boots are reminiscent of black, lace-up wrestling boots. Also popular are slightly heeled western style boots, often complete with buckles or fringe.

The staples of the American teenage wardrobe have also maintained their grip. Oxfords and polos, particularly Ralph Lauren polos, and Guess jeans continue to be widely popular. The educational scene at times even looks refined as students dress up wearing skirts, jumpers and dress pants. Denim also continues its popularity with rhinestone studded shirts and zippered jackets.

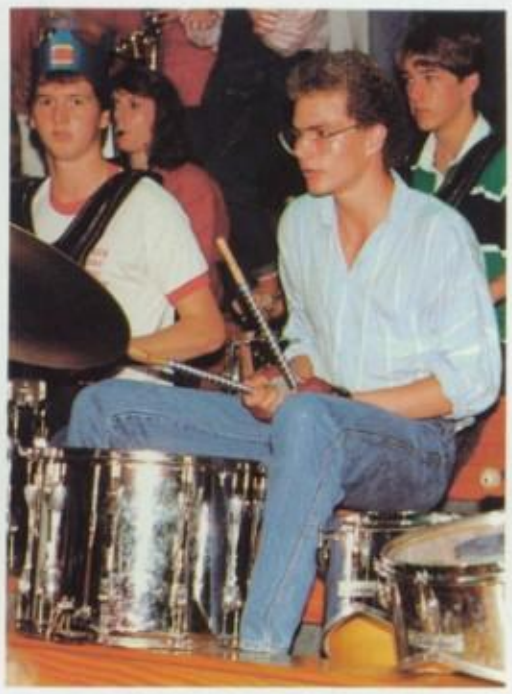
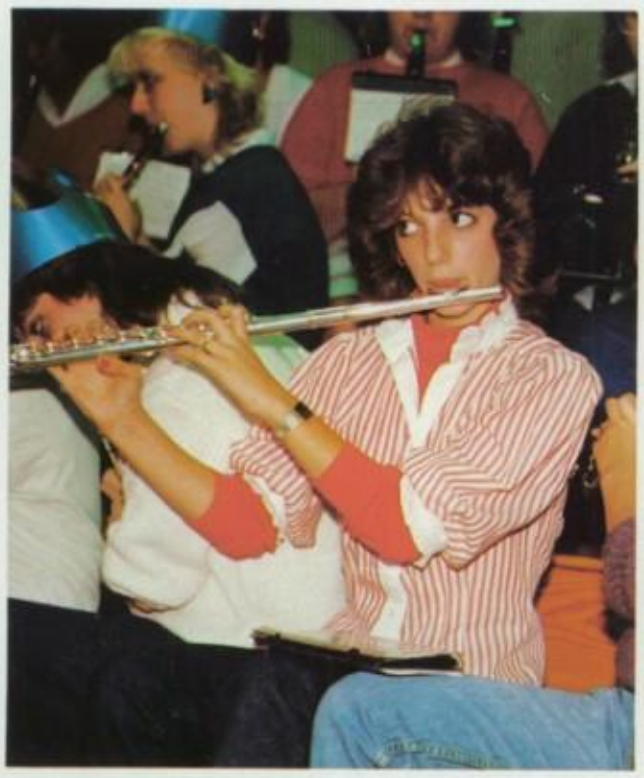
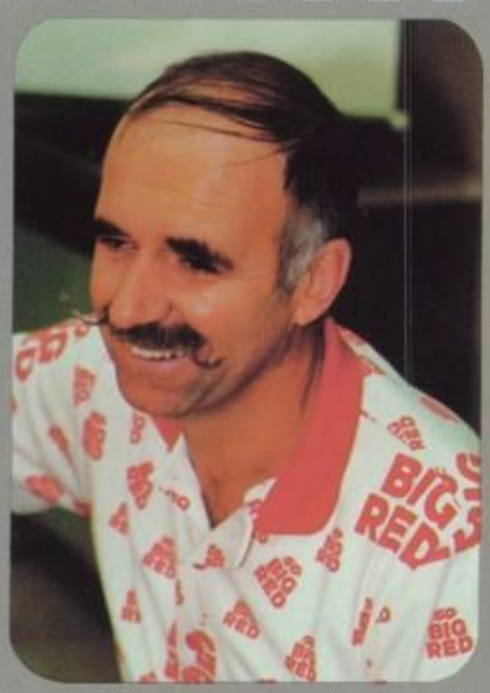
AS ATHLETES HONORED







WE'VE GOT WHEELS

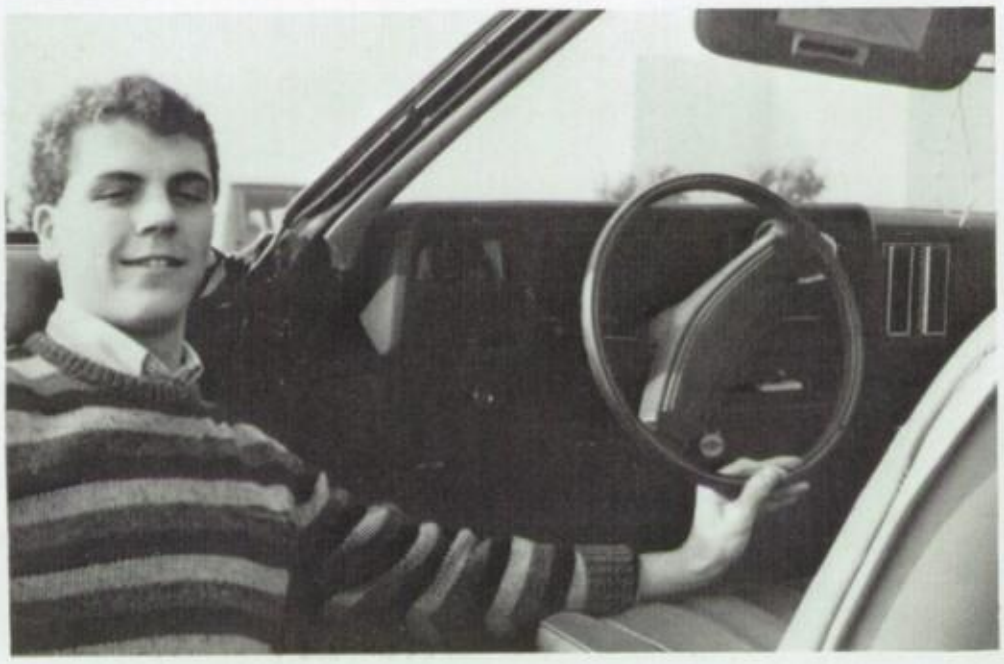
Each morning of the school year, students without driving privileges rush to their bus stops, manuever their bicycles out through cluttered garages, wait for a ride from a friend, older sibling, or parent, or simply walk to school. Although their minds may be cluttered with thoughts of the coming school day, there are few who do not envision, at least briefly, the time when they will no longer be utterly dependent either upon others for transportation or upon the weather for conditions suitable for biking or walking to school.

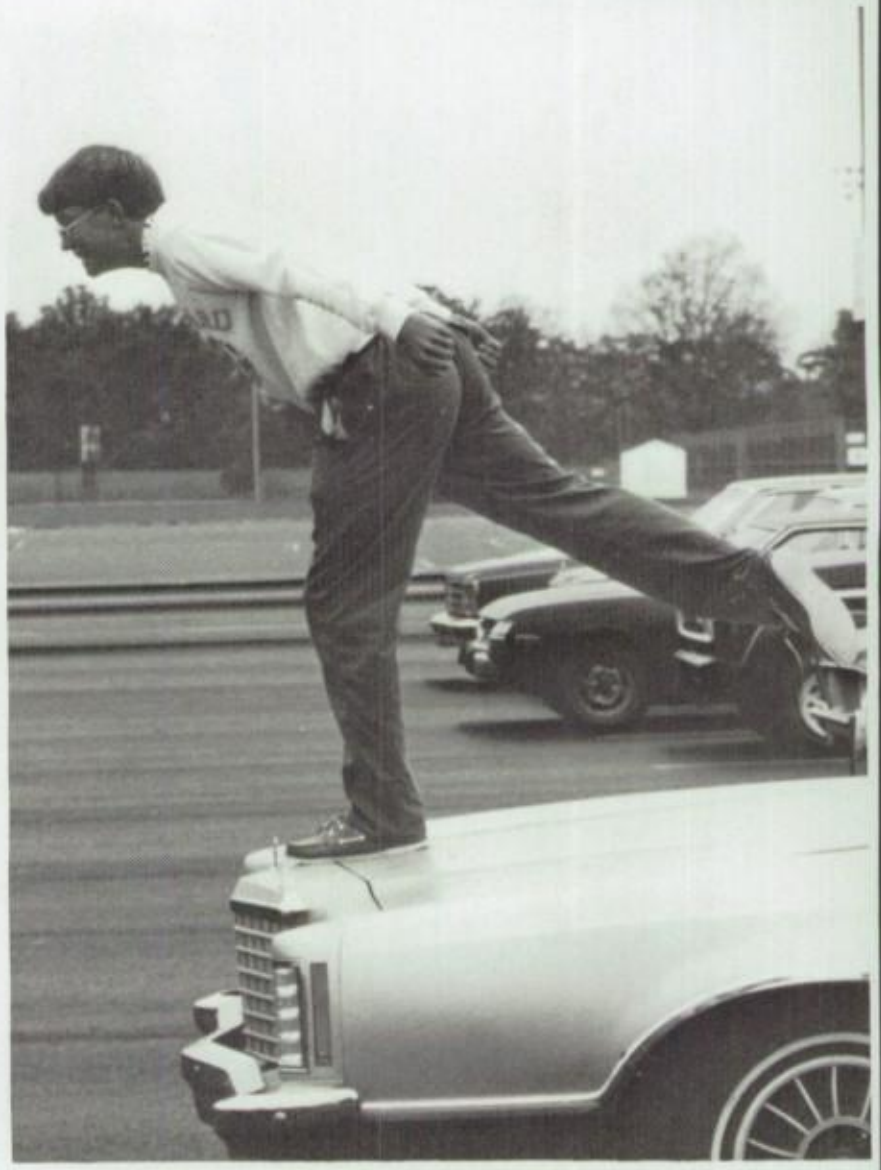
This contemplation of the momentous day when one is the driver, instead of the rider, gives the student a pleasant, hopeful feeling, which helps him or her tolerate having to be outside on dark, freezing, Wisconsin winter mornings.

When the much looked forward to day finally arrives, students are at first overwhelmed at being able to adjust their car or truck's radio, temperature, and speed. They thrill to the thought of being able to pick their times of arrival and departure and fit them to their own preferences. They have the freedom of their own wheels — at last!

It is not long, however, before the new driver will experience a journey into the darker side of transportation. It might even be during the first outing that the student is locked outside of his or her roadster (remember that day, Jenny?) during the worst thunderstorm of the season. Or, perhaps there will be an encounter with the law, lost car keys, a dead battery, or an empty gas tank. In addition the student will suffer from perpetually empty pockets resulting from the strain of vehicle maintainence costs upon the teenage budget.

Amid this sea of new worries and responsibilities, the young driver may even long for the time when someone else provided the transportation. Then even the old yellow bus won't look so bad.





Top center: It's got 2.9 written all over it.

ST. ELMO'S FIRE

Class of '87, a unique one. We are the first class to spend three years at Shattuck followed by three years at Armstrong. Therefore, all our education has been directed by Larry Lewis. Our class was also the first to find driver's education no longer a part of the regular school curriculum.

Being a senior has a serious side. In the summer every college floods the postal system with brochures amd flyers. Tests are taken and applications are filled out. Fortunately, acceptance and rejection notices will not be received until April, when the senior year unofficially ends as we look forward to skip day and graduation.

As for school spirit, in spite of taking three third places in float building, we did win the 1986 spirit award and the cheering contest for two years. NHS, you won't forget us.

GROUPS

The Breakfast Club

Extra-curricular activities and organizations are an important part of the educational environment at Neenah High School. The various groups cover the entire scope of student life.

Some activities such as the foreign language clubs re-inforce classroom learning. Many clubs challenge the intellectual abilities of their members. Journalistic and photographic skills are gained in publication clubs. Helping other people is the goal of service organizations. Co-ops train students for that all important first job after graduation.

Musical students can improve their talents in jazz band, pep band, swing choir or pop strings. Organizations are, however, not all work. Good times, new friendships, and the chance to serve our school community are pleasant side benefits.

The big N.
Taken any good pictures lately?
Brian is Neenah's drummer boy.
Peeking in the teacher's gradebook?

They were five total strangers with nothing in common,
meeting for the first time.
A brain, a beauty, a jock, a rebel and a recluse.
Before the day was over, they broke the rules.
Bared their souls.
And touched each other in a way they never dreamed possible.

"You ought to be in pictures" is the theme of the 1987 Rocket. The movie potential of students, faculty and organizations is explored within these pages. To carry out the theme the staff has used film strips on many of the pages to give students a chance to see themselves as they would appear "on camera." In addition, movie titles have been used as headlines or sub-heads on the division, groups, and sports pages.

One of the most obvious requirements of a theme involving the cinema is lots of pictures. Early in the fall, yearbook photographers began taking the many candids that appear in this book. At least five additional photos are needed for every filmstrip page. The photographers industriousness resulted in an overabundance of great shots.

Editors, of course, are given the responsibility of making all of the major decisions involving theme, layout, and organization of the Rocket. The staff implements these decisions at the weekly meetings. Then the captions and copy must be typed into the computer and each page must be indexed.

A new feature this year of the Josten's computer word processing disks is the addition of a page by page indexer. This is the first year that the staff has been able to avoid the laborious task of indexing each page by hand.

Finally, the Rocket staff recognizes debts to several people and organizations. The Post Crescent helps out each year with sport photographs, and Classic Studios of Wausau took the group pictures. Camera and Card does all of the yearbook picture developing, and Milo Barnaby, the Josten's representative, meets with the staff and helps solve any problems that come up during the year.

PRODUCING THE ROCKET

FRANKENSTEIN SCORES A HIT

NHS's first production of the 1986-87 season enhanced the fright and excitement of Halloween with Frankenstein: the Monster Play.

Sophomores and first time actors dominated the cast. Special effects produced by the technical crew added to the excitement of the play.

Frankenstein's creation, the Monster, came to life in the first act and began terrorizing the household and village. Victims included relatives and friends of Frankenstein. Mobs of villagers roamed the countryside in search of the creature who was finally destroyed as the Frankenstein mansion burned to the ground. He died holding Dr. Frankenstein's fiance in his arms.

Directed by Rod Johnson, the play's special effects were guided by James Vorland.

NHS THESPIANS GIVEN SUPPORT

Drama Club supports all dramatic activities at NHS. Most of the students either act in or work behind the scenes of the major productions. In addition, club members sell tickets, usher at Pickard, and raise money for activities such as a trip to see a professional production. This year Lisa Piette is in charge of ushers and coat check.

THE BAND WAGON

"Music soothes the savage beast" or so the saying goes. But can this famous quotation apply to a marching band? Hardly! Stirring up the emotions of the home crowd while entertaining the fans is the purpose of the field performances and sideline music at football games. In addition, the band, playing rousing marches, represents the NHS community at local and out of town parades.

SWEET SMELL OF SUCCESS

KEY CLUB

Key Club is Neenah High's most service oriented group. Some of the club's activities include helping with Career Expo, the Best Friends program, and the Special Olympics. The students also make nursing home visits, work with retarded adults, and aid the Kiwanis Club of Neenah when requested.

Key Clubbers also participate in fund raisers, banquets, and statewide conventions.

Officers for the 1986-87 school year are Jennifer Cowling, president; Ann Franz, vice-president; Christine Rucci, secretary; and April Wiegert, treasurer.

Row 1: Chris Rucci, Tracey Ales, Chris Voster, Michelle Kohl, Tracey Schultz, Sara Weinke, Pat Bezella. STOP

Students Take On Prevention, STOP, has as its goal the prevention of the use of drugs and alcohol by Neenah students. Presentations to 6th graders each spring emphasize the importance of values and positive peers rather than negative peers.

Under the guidance of Pat Bezella and Carolyn Schoening members also attend a conference with other Wisconsin prevention groups.

CHESS CLUB

Chess Club members spend many hours honing their skills with practice. Under Jim Klitz's direction members challenge each other to duels of hard concentration. All of this practice leads up to participation in two tournaments each spring, the Northeastern Wisconsin High School Chess Association League and the Wisconsin State High School Chess Tournament.

COMPUTER CLUB

Computer hackers have found a home in Conant after school. There they work with Harry Blobaum exploring the latest innovations of computer software and hardware. Demonstrations by outside experts have helped the group understand computer technology as have exchanges with other high schools.

THREE LITTLE WORDS

SUCCESSFUL DEBATERS

Neenah High School concluded its most successful debate season with a second in conference. The varsity team qualified for state. Erich Lassen, Glen Lemmert, Jeff Noordyk, Roy Park and Tom Romnek received 2,000 point awards. Special awards included Scott Breunig and Alyn Beckman for Hardest Worker. Most Improved was Glem Lemmert. The Spirit Award went to Jim Tews. Nadine Huebner was Best Affirmative; Best Negatives were Erich Lassen and Roy Park. The Coaches Award was presented to Josh O'Mara and Jeff Noordyk.

Cartoons — columns — controversy: all are a part of the Neenah student newspaper. Under the direction of Scott Hutchinson, the Satellite *both reports and makes news. Cartoonist Eric Lassen brought a new style in editorial and feature strip cartooning this year. In addition, columists challenged old ideas and inspired new ones. GREMLINS & THE BIRDS

BIOLOGY CLUB

Biology means more than just dissecting frogs. Support for the environment and special learning experiences are stressed in Biology Club. Field trips and projects dominate the club members' time as they learn to "get along with Nature."

CONSERVATION CLUB

Conservation Club each year gives free bird feed to students to attract and feed birds during the winter. In addition, the club buys trees and shrubs from the DNR and gives them to the members for planting on their own land. Field trips to Trees for Tomorrow, McKenzie Enviromental Center, Bubolz Nature Center, Horicon Marsh and the Lightfuss Tree Farm broaden club members' experience. To raise money the club operates concessions at the boys' basketball games.

AV CLUB

Movies, filmstrips, slide shows, videotapes, computers — all of these technological teaching aids are available to the teachers with the help of the students and staff members who work in AV Club. Director Craig Rider is ultimately responsible for these activities. However, even with two hard-working aides, the job would not get done without student help. The AV club members give up study hall and after school time to serve the school.

WHEN WORLDS COLLIDE

The American Field Service Club at Neenah High School has a two-fold purpose: First, AFS welcomes each year our student visitors from other countries and tries to provide a social atmosphere where Americans can learn of others, and they can learn of us. Activities such as a picnic, a float in the Homecoming parade, a Halloween costume party, a potluck and swim at the YMCA, a trip to the Milwaukee Folk Fair help to give the AFS foreign students a sample of American life.

Second, Neenah High students learn from the foreign students of their countries through slides and question and answer sessions. AFS is open to all NHS students who wish to learn more about other cultures.

With the purpose of expanding the horizons of foreign language students, language clubs at NHS offer cultural activities outside the classroom. Holidays are emphasized as is the opportunity to get to know the foreign exchange students. The French Club also assists the Neenah Community French Program. In addition, all of the groups participate in fund raisers to support their activities.

Honor Society members, selected in the spring by a faculty council, must demonstrate leadership, character, service, and scholarship. Each student must have held at least one position of leadership in the school or community. In addition, the initiates must have been active in at least one service organization and must be involved in either extracurricular or co-curricular activities.

Once selected, members participate in service projects such as the spring blood drive, the tutoring of students, Thanksgiving basket collections and providing Christmas gifts for patients at WMHI.

The academic decathlon consists of 10 competitions in academic areas. Six competitions are multiple choice written exams in the areas of mathematics (algebra to calculus), science (chemistry & astronomy), language & literature (including sonnets, Hamlet, and Heart of Darkness), economics, and fine arts (including Renaissance artists, sculptors, composers, writers). The other focus areas of competition are in communication skills and deal with the US Constitution. These areas include: essay writing, speech (both prepared and impromptu), an interview, and the Super Quiz — the only event that takes place before an audience.

One hundred and eighty-one schools participated in the first elimination round in November. From that event 54 schools advanced to the six regional events in January. Neenah's team won the right to compete for the state title in March. During April, Wisconsin's winning team will compete in the Nationals held in Texas this year.

PLAY IT AGAIN, SAM

THESPIANS PERFORM

Weekends spent on school buses in high-powered competition is old hat for Neenah's forensics team. The students participate in speech areas such as 4-minutes, impromptu, and demonstrations.

Drama categories include humorous and dramatic memorizations, interpretive readings in prose and poetry, and one-act plays.

Highlight of the year is the competitions that come in the spring in conference, regionals and state competitions.

MOCK TRIAL TEAM

Seated: Brian Westphal, Tom Steffen, Joan Tao. Standing: Diane Ostrand, Alyn Beckman, Joan Schaper, Stephanie Wojtowicz, Steve Epley.

For the fourth year Neenah High has entered a team in the Mock Trial tournament sponsored by the Wisconsin Bar Association. The Bar sets up a hypothetical case which each school team in the state prepares with student defense and prosecuting attorneys, defendents, plaintiffs and witnesses.

This year's case centers around the death of a prize show horse in a car — horse trailer accident. The owner of the horse is suing a Morgan Nash at whose home a drinking party was allegedly held. The underage driver of the car had been drinking but is not being sued.

The pertinent questions involved are: Was there indeed drinking? Did the parent, Morgan Nash, know that the party involved drinking? Was the parent present at the party? The last question hinges on exactly what time the parent came home.

Mock Trial team members practice each week in preparation for team competitions againt area schools. Attorney Phillip Monroe of Neenah and advisor Diane Ostrand work with the students.

Local, sub regional, and regional contests lead to a state contest in April. The national contest will be held in Washington D.C. in May. Since this year celebrates the 200th anniversary of the Constitution, the Supreme Court will judge the national contest.

JUNIORS

EUROPEAN VACATION

Junior year is often said to be the most active in high school. Juniors are past the sophomore year of survival, but are not yet seniors whose eyes are turned toward the future. Juniors are supposedly becoming better citizens, but they still find ways of having fun. Some are experiencing the freedom, and trouble, of having a car while others are still subjected to the horrors of busing.

Juniors experience just how unfair parents are: predawn curfews, no allowance because the kids have jobs, babysitting tasks — imagine taking little brother to homecoming, and rules such as no stereo at 3:00 a.m.!

And yet, there is a good side to the junior year. Juniors are not prime candidates for burn-out anymore, and they aren't plagued with senioritis yet. But most importantly, we can look forward to being number one next year.

SPORTS

The Natural

Being an athlete in Neenah takes dedication. What kind of dedication? The kind that requires long hours of practice: staying after school to shoot that extra basket, to practice on the balance beam, or to lift those extra weights.

Playing sports in Neenah means expecting teachers to understand when the athlete leaves class early or when he falls asleep because he was up late doing homework after a game that lasted until 10:00 p.m. These problems allow the teacher and the student to work as a team. Faculty and students alike know that Neenah has pride.

However, behind the hard work there is a sense of accomplishment. Smiles from teammates keep a Rocket going. Best of all, there is no pride like that felt when an athlete puts on a Neenah uniform.

ROCKETS DOMINATE STATE

LOVE IS A RACKET

For the Neenah Varsity Tennis team it was an exciting weekend down in "Mad" town during the WIAA state tennis tournament. Although Neenah took 1st in both singles and doubles, they placed 2nd to Brookfield Central, losing by two points.

For the fourth year in a row, Tami Whitlinger captured the state title in singles competion. In her four years she has accumulated 105 singles victories. She easily took first with winning sets of 6-1, 6-0.

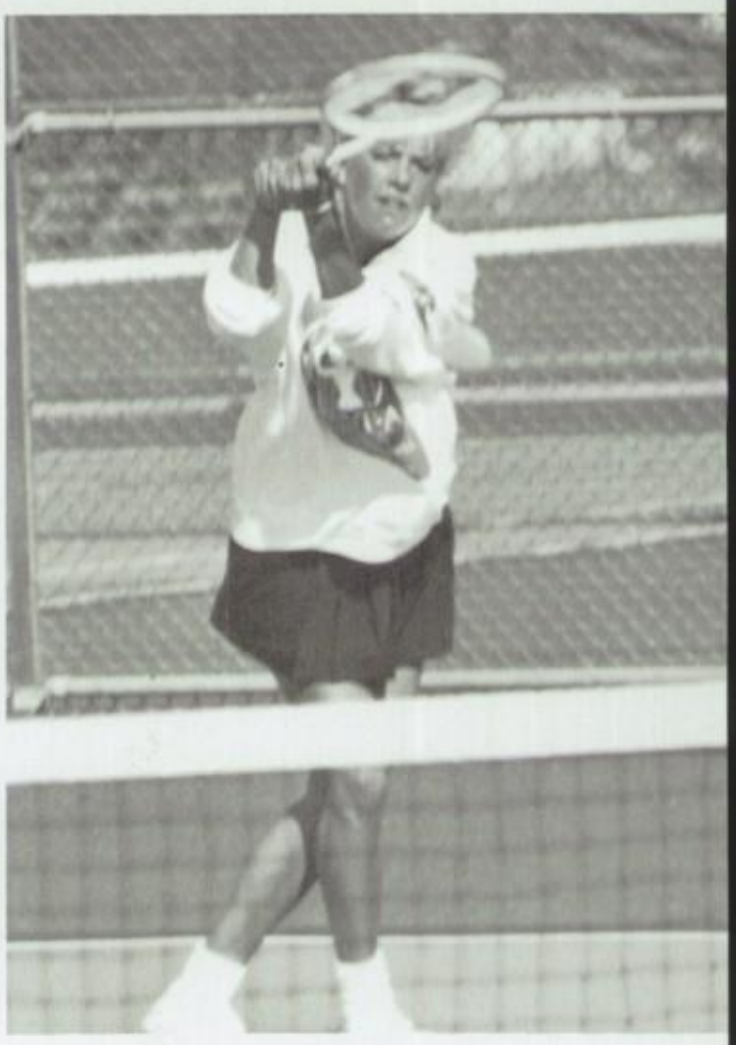
Teri Whitlinger has also won four state doubles titles, with three different partners. This year she was paired off with Cathy Farrell. They managed to beat a Brookfield Central duo 6-1, 6-1.

This year's state tournament marked the realization of a goal that the Whitlinger twins set four years ago - four straight titles. They equaled the record of their Uncle John Whitlinger who also won four straight state championships for Neenah High.

Senior Amy Zimmerman and Jodi Strebel, a Shattuck freshman, also participated in the doubles tournament.

With the Whitlingers leading the way, the Rockets dominated conference play placing no. 1 in the FVA. Neither Whitlinger lost a conference match in their four years at Neenah.

At the end of the season, Tami and Teri shared the Most Valuable Award. Catherine Farrell was named Most Improved and Michelle Ducayet won the Team Spirit title. Amy Zimmerman was named team captain.



State champion Tami Whitlinger won 210 straight sets in her four years of playing for the Rockets.

ROCKETS WIAA CHAMPS

THE VICTORY

For the second straight year Neenah became the WIAA state soccer champions in an overtime win over Madison West 1-0.

After 80 minutes of regulation play and two overtimes, the Regents and Rockets were locked in a scoreless tie. By WIAA rules such contests are then decided by sudden victory penalty kicks. When Sam Nail stopped Madison West's third kick, the Rockets were declared winners.

Neenah ended their season with a 22-2 record, a 12 match winning string, and 11 straight shut outs. Two Madison teams, West and Memorial, were the only teams to defeat the Rockets.

To reach the finals, Neenah defeated Homestead, Brookfield East, and Milwaukee South in the semifinals.

In conference play, the Rockets again defeated all Fox Valley comers. Eleven conference contests were shut outs as Neenah continued its domination of northeast Wisconsin soccer.

Scott Roh, Matt Willey, Mark Bogan, and Kris Kelderman shared the season's Captains Award. Kelderman was also named Most Valuable Player and Willey received the Spirit Award.

All conference first team members include Rob Ansems, Bogan, Chris Cianciola, Mike Hall, Kelderman, Nail, Jim Nash, David Priest, Roh, Ron Smead, and Willey. David Lindenberg was named to the 2nd team.

After defeating Two Rivers in the WIAA sectional tournament, the Rockets fell to Fond du Lac 62-60 in the first overtime stanza. The Rockets, first in Fox Valley Association conference play, ended the season with a 21-3 record.

The all junior starting line up won the Class A WIAA regional championship with a 52-49 win over Oshkosh North, the only conference team to defeat the Rockets during the regular season.

Two Neenah players were elected to the All-Fox Valley Association first team which was also dominated by juniors. Craig Donaldson and Jerry Curtin joined the six member team. Paul Valentine was elected to the seven player second unit.

Coach Ron Einerson was selected coach of the year for the sixth time.

Donaldson and Valentine were elected co-captains. Valentine also received the Spirit Award. In addition, Donaldson was elected Most Valuable Player and received the Rebounding Award. Greg Berven was named Assistant Leader.

WINTER CHEERLEADERS

Adding color and excitement to the winter sports scene is the job of the varsity and junior varsity cheerleaders. Not only do the girls cheer at the games, but they work to drum up enthusiasm with players and fans alike. The posters that adorn the school on game days are made by the cheerleading squads. In addition, the girls decorate their team members lockers and even at times their home doors to remind the athletes that they have the support of the school.

Performance cheers and dance cheers with the Pep Band raise the level of excitement before each game. Parents, students and other Neenah sport fans acknowledge the hard work of the cheerleading squads with hardy applause.

SOPHOMORES

ROCKY 1V

Sophomores. In Greece we would be considered "wise morons." At Armstrong we are considered scum and told to "go back to Shattuck."

Despite being the butt of every joke in school, life at Armstrong has proved to have some advantages over life in junior high. Being able to cross the parking lot, however deep the snow is, however many times a girl's hair goes flat, or however her mascara runs, certainly is better than the feeling of spending time at Alcatraz with parole on weekends.

We will be the first class not to get open campus when we are seniors. Our style has also been cramped by new requirements such as health and speech classes. Despite whatever obstacles get in our way, the class of '89 will triumph.

Center: Math is just soooo much fun.
Right: Just like Rocky, sophomores will win at last.

STAFF

ABSENCE OF MALICE

NHS's faculty plays a major role in the life of each student. Sometimes this role may include hours of confusing assignments and homework and, at other times, a few hours of detention.

However, the teachers and administrators at NHS are a positive influence on us as well. Each teacher adds a bit of his or her individuality to the classes throughout the day. Whether he brings a warm hello, a thoughtful word, or a sense of humor to class, he makes the long hours seem a litte shorter.

At Neenah we have a staff who cares about the students. We can find counselors and administrators who are willing to listen to our problems as well as teachers who help us out when we are completely lost.

The faculty sets high expectations for Neenah students. We are challenged to be the best that we can be.

Left: What big muscles you have, Mr. Roherty.
Center: Even teachers pick on sophomores.
Right: Minds over malice.

SCIENCE DEPARTMENT

"Seeing students discover an idea for the first time" is the most enjoyable part of teaching according to Larry Lemmert. He first became interested in chemistry when received his first chemistry set. Ever since then he has enjoyed "playing" with chemicals.

If he were given the opportunity to change one thing about students, he would have them more knowledgeable about their futures. When asked how students had changed, Lemmert responded that the number of extracurricular activities has made many demands. However, he also noted that activities such as Chemistry Olympiad can increase students' knowledge of the sciences.

ENGLISH DEPARTMENT

When a student walks into English class with Carlton Counard, he can tell that class is going to be different. Carlton, as he often calls himself during class, has a relaxed manner that one rarely sees in a teacher.

His World Authors class is probably the most informal and interesting with students discussing great literature. Students have l-o-o-o-ng reading assignments and group discussions in class. The atmosphere is relaxed, but the topics are heav-ey with world renowned authors like Dostoyevsky, Gogol and Turgenev. Although Counard makes his class fun, he does expect a great deal — tough essay tests and always another book to read.

SOCIAL STUDIES

Wilson Scribner, chairman of the Social Studies Department, teaches American Government and economics to seniors. In his class, students know immediately that they have a challenge, for Scribner strives to bring the best out of his students. He pushes his students to use their abilities to the fullest.

His enthusiasm and encouragement make the work worthwhile. Scibner takes pride in his work. His goal in teaching is to make sure that his students have the feeling of a job well done. Students know that in his class they have been intellectually challenged.

Because he encourages his students to be the best that they can be, they are proud of their work and proud to have had Scribner as a teacher.

FOREIGN LANGUAGES

Madame Meg VanderZanden teaches French, but she does much more than merely teach, she has become a friend. With her students, Madame shares her enjoyment and knowledge of the language, art, and culture of France. Through her, the students become more aware of the country.

Madame says that if there was one idea that she would like French students to carry beyond the classroom that would be cultural awareness and tolerance. Madame wants Americans to become more understanding and accepting of different cultures and their people. The real highlight of the French student's year is the trip to France with Madame.

BUSINESS DEPARTMENT

If you ever hear a jovial guffaw coming from the business education wing, chances are it's Mary Jones'. Jones teaches many classes such as typing, accounting, and business and taxes. She has an unusual flare for adding humor. Her joking, however, does not detract from the seriousness of her subjects. In her class, students are taught how to get along in the business world.

The business education teachers mean business, too, as they have a contest to see who can pick up the most change. If you ever see any of the business teachers, maybe you could toss a few pennies to them, and if you have any good jokes, maybe you could toss them Miss Jones' way.

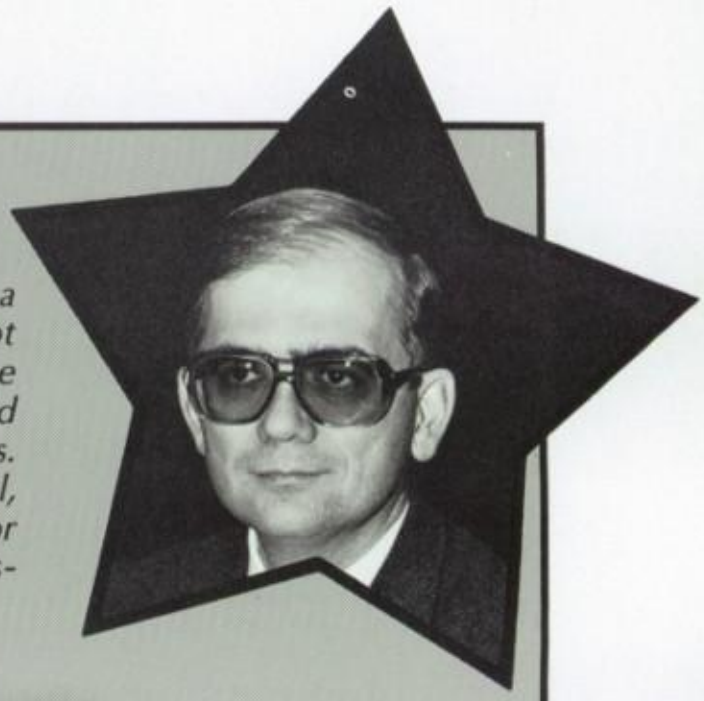
MATH DEPARTMENT



Phil Waterworth teaches Exploratory Algebra, Algebra II, and Statistics. His easy manner of teaching makes even the most frustrating math seem bearable. When a student is really stumped, he takes time to explain even the most difficult formula.

Working with numbers may be part of his school year, but he also teams up with Dr. Gruber to be Senior Board advisor. This year he was exposed to a rowdy group of seniors that were not intimidated by the juniors during the Homecoming parade. He even helped the Rocket out with some pictures. When Mr. Waterworth is not at school, he is cross country skiing, sailing, or working at his farm in Columbus, Wisconsin.

Finishing with 14 points, Neenah's netters took third place in the WIAA state tennis tournament. Nicolet placed first with 26 points, and Brookfield East nailed down second with 16 points.

The no. 2 doubles team of Tip Brown and Pat Began reached the quarterfinals where they lost to last year's third place finishers. The no. 1 tandem of John Gerstner and Pat Boswell were eliminated in their second match. Greg Berven, the sectional singles champ, lost his second match, and Andy Semrad was defeated in his 1st match.

In conference play the Rockets placed number one as they did at both the regionals and sectionals. At subsectionals the team scored the maximum 16 points and qualified the entire team. At sectionals they scored 35 of a possible 36 points.

All-FVA tennis singles players from Neenah are Semrad, Boswell, and Brown. Ted Thomsen and Dan Kearney were honored on the doubles first unit. Berven, Boswell, and Gerstner received honorable mention.

ROCKETS LOOK TO FUTURE

THE NATURAL

Thirteen losses and only three wins made for a disappointing season for the Neenah Rocket nine.

In tournament play the Rockets lost to Menasha 5-3 in a rain-delayed game that was suspended in the third inning with the Bluejays leading 3-1. The next day Neenah scored three runs but were unable to keep the Jays from scoring two more runs.

Pat Pederson was named to the All-FVA first team, and Jim Marohn received honorable mention. Pederson, the team's Most Valuable Player, was named co-captain with Todd Price. He also received the Silver Bat Award for a .366 season. Brad Wiegand received the Gold Bat Award with a .368.

Neenah's boys' track team took the FVA conference title defeating second place Appleton West in the conference meet with 118 points. Kevin Rule won the 100 hurdles, and Charlie Smith was second. Mike Brantmeier took a first in the 100 yard dash, and Dave McLaren won the shot put. In both the 400 and 1600 relays, the Rockets took a second.

Sophomores Kevin Rule and Dave McLaren represented the Rocket team in the WIAA class A state tournament.

Smith and Craig Sachs shared the co-captain award. Smith was also a 1000 point winner and co-Most Valuable Sprinter with Brantmeier. Alex Scribner was named the Most Valuable Distance Runner, and Jim Northway received the Spirit Award. Dave McLaren, the 2nd 1000 point winner, was named the Most Valuable-Field Events.

THREE GIRLS PLACE AT STATE

SOME CAME RUNNING

Patti Schoo captured the WIAA Class A girls' track high jump crown, Jenny Owens took second in the 3200 meter run, and Lori Jesse was fourth in the 400. The girls' 1600 relay team of Amy Garlock, Cathy Gilmore, Lori Jesse, and Cheryl MacPhetridge placed fifth and Tracy Shukosky was 13th in the 100 hurdles.

Scoring 70 points, the Rockets took first place in the WIAA Class A track and field sectional. In the FVA conference meet the Rockets placed second behind Kaukauna.

Garlock, Gilmore, and Jesse shared the co-captains honors. Gilmore also received the Coaches' Award. Jesse, a 1000 points winner, was chosen Most Valuable-Sprints. Owens, also 1000 points, was Most Valuable-Distance, and Shukosky won both a 1000 points award and was selected Most Valuable-Field Events. Schoo was the final 1000 points winner.

DON'T DRINK THE WATER

Neenah's thespians featured Woody Allen's comedy Don't Drink the Water as their final 1987 production. Set in an American embassy behind the Iron Curtain, the play centered on a family trapped behind the embassy walls.

Starring Katie Crowe, Scott Roh, and Sarah Tracy as the family, the drama also featured Joe Beard as the beleaguered ambassador's son and Tom Romnek as a priest whose long exile led him to an interest in magic.

Rod Johnson directed the production with of Jim Vorland, technical director.

GREASE

Under the direction of Rod Johnson, the Neenah High theatre returned to the 1950's in their production of Grease*, back to poodle skirts, pony tails, hot rods, and the beginnings of rock and roll.*

"Shakin' at the High School Hop," "Look at me, I'm Sandra Dee," and "Freddy, My Love" blended with "Alma Mater" and "Beauty School Dropout" to recall a seemingly simpler era.

Cast members included Dan Kearny as Danny Zuko, Jill Freier as Sandy Dumbrowski, Jenny Crockett as Frenchy, Kathy Lewis as Jan, Patty Shutt as Marty, Rachel Alsteen as Betty, Scott Roh as Roger, Jake Vander Zanden as Doody, and Jim Lewis as Sonny. Rounding out the complement were Heidi Meyer, Shannon Gumma, Jason Fellows, Mike Connolly, Bill Neal, and Joe Beard.

Orchestra members were Dave Rouse, Dave Dunning, Mark Anderson, Pat Fahrenkrug, Elizabeth Justice, and Jeff Roberts. Student Assistants, Julie Ward and Steve Scherck, aided technical director Jim Vorland. Jim Vine and Len Hansen guided the vocal and instrumental music. The production staff included Lynda Orlando, Lisa Labre, John Bonnin, Russ Moder, Lynn Bocek and Kim Palmer. Staff members Barb Willmington, Chris Grunwald, and Craig Rider also added their expertise.

STARRING AT GIRLS STATE

Four Neenah students attended Badger Girls State in June, 1987, in Madison. The girls duplicated the bodies of Wisconsins' government during their one week stay.

NHS juniors were sponsored by several Neenah community organizations. Neenah Rotary Club sponsored Shelly Carlson. Cappy Counard was sponsored by the Optimist Club of Neenah-Menasha. American Legion Post #33 sponsored Cory Counard, and OB-GYN Associates of Neenah sponsored Sarah Ernst. Alternates were Margaret Hayward, Nancy Mattes, Carrie Oashger, and Jaymee Schubert.

FBLA

Carolyn Piantek and Beth Sawlsville took first-place honors in the Wisconsin Future Business Leaders of America competition. Both represented Wisconsin in national competition in Anaheim, California, in July.

Jenny Glocke, Chris Kohlbeck, and Scott Steinfort participated with the other competitors at the regionals. Kathy Swanson also represented Neenah's FBLA at state.

The purpose of the FBLA contests is to help students who are interested in business increase their skills by competing against the best in the state and nation.

YOUR PRECIOUS LOVE

With the theme "Your Precious Love," the class of 1987 celebrated at the NHS prom. Steve Camber and Amy Votava reigned as King and Queen. Senior attendants were Terese Bresnahan, Marty Christensen, Nicole Florence, Troy Howard, Tammy Lepsch, and Pat Jugo. Junior attendants were Shelly Carlson, Rob Buksyk, Amy Floriano, Christopher Farrell, Tracey Rymer, Craig Klatt, Stephanie Taves, and Mark Koehn.

SENIOR AWARDS PROGRAM

In the joint spring orchestra-senior awards program, Neenah teachers, administrators and community members honored those seniors who achieved the best in scholastics, music, service and athletics.

Individual academic deapartments honored their outstanding students. The music and athletic departments named the recipients of their many honors.

Most of the awards were presented by community members associated with businesses and organizations that traditionally honor Neenah's graduating seniors. Many of these awards involve money grants and scholarships that are designed both to reward good students and to help them with their collegiate expenses. All recipients of senior awards are listed on page 28.

Eric,
I guess I really don't have to sign this because I'll see you all summer. Make a great and algebra sucks, but it was a great class.
Have a Summer
Scott

Eric - It was fun seeing you around. Even though you sit so far from me. You seem to be really cool and I hope I can get to know you better. Have a great summer and I hope to see you drummin' around!
Later, friends,
Shelly :-)

Good Eric, nice face
I'm trying to cover up
W. cutting class
sitting across from you.
Remember to play with Dan this summer.
Have a great one.
Mike
Peace

Eric,
Well, another year
has ended thank God!
It was great getting to know
you this year. You a nice & funny guy. I hope to see you around this summer. Give me
a call sometime
Later ya
Onward
Denise

PS. Please
Call.

Hi Eric,
Well I guess since the end of the year there won't any hard feelings. But I still think you're weird and have a few problems!! Maybe when we finally graduate you'll grow up! (Just kidding.) I really didn't mind having you sit behind me in Western Cultures. It made it a little more interesting!
Friends!
Tina

Autographs

Eric -
It's been great getting to know you better this year. II hope that we have a lot of classes together next year because you sure know how to make them interesting.
Have a great summer and I'll see you around!
Friends,
Peggy

Eric,
Let me know if that summer job doesn't work out. I'll have a couple of openings.
Much love Blank Nelson

Eric -
Oh my gosh I'm so sorry I haven't written you back yet. I've been swamped

Well Eric:

I'm about to leave now, in a month exactly, but I can say its been a GREAT year. I still remember you owe me a beer ☺; I guess I forgive you!! I hope you've an '4WESOME summer & maybe someday we'll meet somewhere.

Remember me

from Spain Love Miguel

Eric,
Great to know a smart ass in algebra. That's o.k. though - you gotta have those. Have a great summer and hope to see you around.
P.S. Mal rules forever!
Dave Olsen

Hi Eric,
Great was meeting you. I'll see you in SD for all the tennis beat ya up. :)
Take it easy.
Don't forget to write.
Bye Kirsten

Hi Dude!

Well Eric, it has been nice to know you. I'm telling you that you are a weird guy, but damn cool.
Hope to see you in Norway once

Friends always Bernhard

Yo E.J.
What's up!
It's been a pretty crazy year
(Pat Boswell, Jon sparks, steve Johnson etc)
Maybe next year I can beat the old record. You've done pretty well yourself this year! I'm jealous is you in gold on the front. Stay you with a couple other best friend See ya not this Your Buddie summer.

Eric -
Its a great honor to sign the g.b. of an actual Rock-N-Roll Fantasy Say hi to Mary & James for me & have an enchanting Summer.
Tom Waits

You bother me. You are a pest. You piss me off sometimes.
But I love you anyway.
No parties this summer
because of everything that happened but next year
(and you're invited)
Love,
Sue Romnek

Eric,
Hey dude! It's been a great year.
The L.W. concert was great! I hope you enjoyed it too? well dude, next year will be Juniors. Fun ha? Have the best summer!
No more room! Oh well. Luv & Lucks

Eric-
Weee it's hard to Believe
I am graduating. It goes by fast so Jump
On to it and enjoy it.
When I could go back and do it over- I am glad I got to know
you. You are nice-Wish you the Best of Luck in your future.
Take Care and
Have Fun!
Love
Jen ☺.

Eric-
What a privilage to sign next to
you. This has been a year of ups and downs for me and personally I'm glad it's over. Spanish is the candy!! Lindgren is class sure was fun.
it? well have a good summer and hope
we have better teachers
next year.
Friends
M Ouco

Hola Eric can you believe we finally made it through our Soph year. Spanish was great but Algebra with Val (Greek) was so much better (Ha!)
Hope you have a great summer
See ya around
Friends

Eric (Grimo)
Well I down 2 to go for ya
I only have 1 more year of this. This is great.
Have a great one and
maybe we can do something sometime, just give me a call. See ya later.
stay tuff
was tough

Hey ya Eric - congrats! I'll be seeing ya next year at Paul's. Have a great summer and don't forget to write. Hope you find a job at Burger King or something. Have fun this summer. Don't do anything I wouldn't do. Oh yeah, don't forget to study for Spanish. Have a good summer and don't work too hard. Maybe I'll see you at Paul's next year. Have fun this summer. Don't do anything I wouldn't do. Oh yeah, don't forget to study for Spanish. Have a good summer and don't work too hard. Maybe I'll see you at Paul's next year.

Eric;
Best in Spanish
with you. Hope you had fun serving your detention for Paulus. Have a great summer and I'll see you next year.

I enjoy the way
you swear under your breath after L. Grange I hope I see you skating this summer so I can knock you on your ass.
Brad

Haya Gooner, Anyone ever tell you what a riot you are? Well you are. But your great. You make me laugh - I always almost start to cry. I hope I see you this summer - but im sure I will with you
scrapping riots and ass
Amy wangs I hope that you have a fucking great summer - I can't to write some thing Luke fuck on shit in here I don't wanna look stupid - P 39.

Eric,
Are you going to continue taping rides off of Blank like everyone else does? If your Board call me and we can go skatin or somethin else. See ya next year or somethin.
Mike G.

Eric,
I Admire you

PAT Hartmann

Eric,
well the prospects
for next year look promising.
Hope you get back in your skating groove. Take lessons. Kidding. Hope to see you at APRIL this summer. Pic he was interesting.
Friends,
Jay

Eric,
We've known each other since elementary school and we've been friends about 5% of the time. You are cool though - we just don't seem to get along sometimes.
Let's get together this summer.

F/F -Kev-
Davis

Eric!
This year
was cool but I didn't like yer dad's attitude as much as I did the 1st
but I'm sure next year will be more fun for ya
